The Mayoral Stakeholder Community Forums were created to help advance the inclusion and engagement of diverse, disconnected, and disproportionately impacted San Franciscans in the public discourse, economic opportunities and vibrant social life of the city. The Forums highlight the best and most innovative ventures, policies, and programs that advance diversity in the San Francisco Bay Area.

Following a keynote address by CEO of Kaiser Permanente, Bernard J. Tyson, this Forum will feature a visionaries panel discussion and smaller breakout sessions.

Free parking will be available for event participants in the upper and lower levels of the Koret Parking Lot at the southwest corner of Turk and Parker.
