San Francisco Human Rights Commission

Seeking Participants
for a Community Project
on Anti-Semitism and Discrimination

The San Francisco Human Rights Commission is SEEKING PARTICIPANTS for a community-based project that will highlight the personal experiences of Jewish individuals who have ever encountered Anti-Semitism, stereotyping, harassment or bias.

As a participant, you will:

• Take pictures and engage in critical dialogue about your experience with Anti-Semitism and discrimination.
• Identify and share your coping strategies and community resources that help to build strength and resilience.
• Have the unique opportunity to contribute to community awareness through the public display of your photos and stories.

All participants will receive a gift of appreciation for their participation.

Join the Project and Make a Difference!

To participate, visit this link https://sjsu.qualtrics.com//SE/?SID=SV_domZ7Gq3JqRKuep or scan the QR code.

For more information, contact Sneh Rao at the San Francisco Human Rights Commission, (415) 252-2525.